Is America Worth Preserving?
(Portland Oregonian.)
From the rusty scrapheap of the 1912 Democratic National platform the Oregonian rescues this gem of resounding bluff and bluster:

The constitutional rights of American citizens should protect them on our borders and go with them throughout the world; and every American citizen residing in or having property in any foreign country is entitled to and must be given the full protection of the United States government, both for himself and his property.

Let some of the Democratic orators now hot-footing over the state in the interest of Woodrow Wilson and their own jobs, present or prospective, devote a few minutes to the above well-known forgotten declaration.

Let us hear from them if American lives and American rights have been protected and safeguarded in Mexico. If not, why not?

If they are not to be held safe under the American flag, how does the President intend to achieve the greater America about which he talks so eloquently?

If America is to have no foreign investments or interests, how is America to maintain itself as a nation?

If it is desirable to have such investments and interests, how is it to be done?

How can American labor be employed and American products sold and American profit secured without foreign trade?

Can America live by itself and for itself alone?

Next to the United States, Germany has the greatest number of telegraph offices and the largest line mileage among nations.

TRAIN AND TEAM

Miss Louise Harrington and Laurentian Ladue of East Middlebury furnish Sensation.

MIDDLEBURY, Oct. 28.—The people of the quiet village of East Middlebury were somewhat surprised yesterday when they learned that Miss Louise Harrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Harrington of that village, and Laurentian Ladue, whose home was formerly in Bristol notch, had eloped on the sleeper Thursday night with their baggage, bound at Ladue stated to a friend for Milwaukee, Wis.

Ladue stated that their marriage had been objected to, and they were going to take matters into their own hands. He at one time worked in Milwaukee and came east some time ago and located near his fiancée, Miss Harrington having been employed at the farm of Elroy Sessions in East Middlebury.

Thursday evening they secured a team from Mr. Sessions and taking their worldly possessions in a trunk headed for Milwaukee. The team was put up at the Addison house stable, and with no objections on the part of anybody they left for the brewery town.

DON'T LIVE ON YOUR NERVES.
Health Commission Says It Is Responsible for Many Ills.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 28.—People who "live on their nerves" are roundly scolded by Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, state health commissioner, in a statement in which he lays a train of evils, including indigestion, worry, excitability, temper and other ills to this practice. Dr. Dixon says:

"Do you live on your nerves? Possibly you do and boast of it as if it was something to be proud of.

"Despite ideas to the contrary few people ever work themselves to death. It is usually the combination of business and pleasure at a strenuous pace which does the damage.

"It is so easy to go a little further on your nerves when you know that physically you need rest and relaxation. There may be times of stress and strain when it is justifiable to exert every atom of endurance, but this is only under special circumstances. To practise it regularly in order to overcrowd one's days is certain to result disastrously.

"People who live on their nerves until nervousness becomes chronic find that it brings a train of evils, indigestion, worry, excitability, temper and restlessness, all great handicaps to efficient work and rational pleasures."

KIDNAPPERS INVADE HOME.
Best Family and Take Two-Year-Old Son of Separated Couple.

ROOSEVELT, L. I., Oct. 28.—Six men in an automobile stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Dahl, in a lonely section here, smashed the door, entered the house and after shooting off revolvers, clubbing Mrs. Dahl, her two sons, Charles, Jr., and Frederick, and her daughter, Mrs. Frank McGovern, and wrecking the furniture, they made away with Mrs. McGovern's son, Frederick, 2 years old.

One of them was left behind, so great was the hurry of the others to get away, and was arrested. He is Harry Cooney.

The raid concerns the marital troubles of Mrs. McGovern, who is separated from her husband. She says she recognized her husband when the raiders burst into the house.

The district attorney is investigating the raid and indictments are expected.

The Sensible Six

Announcement

Bigger, better and more refined is the new model 34—Oakland Sensible Six.

The wheelbase is longer. The body is bigger and more comfortable. Skillful designing has refined the valve-in-head motor into one of high speed type, which without any increase in size develops full forty-one horse power at 2500 r. p. m. Riding quality is greatly improved by the use of long, semi-elliptic springs and the use of larger tires.

Power and beauty and roominess are added in generous measure, yet the new Sensible Six weighs but little more than its predecessor. Refinements have conserved and emphasized its lightness with great strength—its fuel and tire economy—its more than sensible operating cost.

And the price of the new Oakland Six, $845, is also sensible—doubly so when measured against the betterments and improvements which add tremendously to the comfort, convenience, and value of the car.

Oakland Eight $1585—For those who want a big seven-passenger car, Oakland Eight offers the utmost in speed, pulling power and luxurious riding comfort. It has that look of style and distinction—and its lightness and efficiency make its maintenance unusually economical for a car so large and luxurious.
